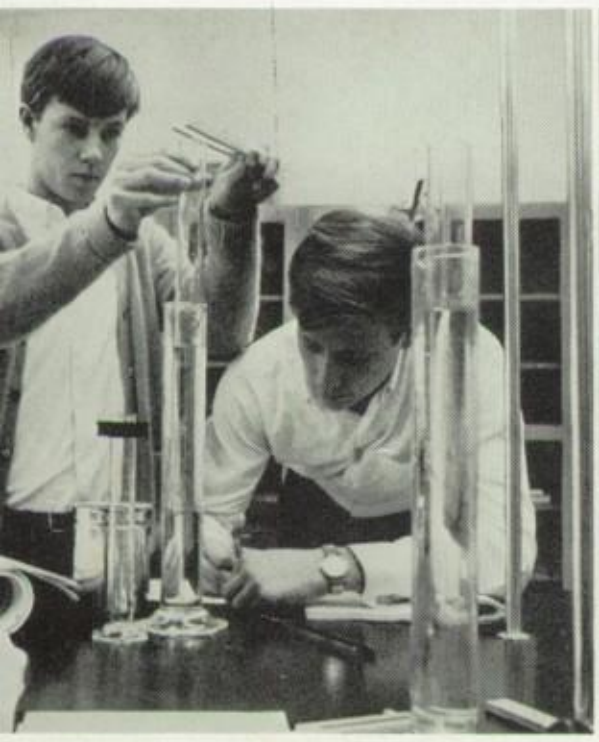
SPIRIT . . .

THE KEY TO VICTORY



The year 1967 marks a year of renewed spirit at Governor Mifflin, not only a spirit for our athletic teams, but also a spirit throughout all phases of school life. The pictures, from the left, represent THE SPIRIT OF ENTHUSIASM, THE SPIRIT OF LEADERSHIP, THE SPIRIT OF DEVOTION, THE SPIRIT OF LEARNING, THE SPIRIT OF DETERMINATION, and THE SPIRIT OF PRIDE. The upper left picture portrays THE SPIRIT OF LAUGHTER, and the lower left shows THE SPIRIT OF TEAMWORK.

Each of these types of spirit is present every day at Governor Mifflin, and each has its bearing upon the growth of every student. Certainly The Spirit of Enthusiasm, Leadership, Devotion, Learning, Determination, Pride, Laughter and Teamwork, which we ourselves create and also absorb, encourage us to employ our best efforts. Thereby we emerge victorious—whether it be in a football game, a band competition, a newspaper publication, a Prom, an academic examination, or, in a broader sense, in life itself. These expressions of spirit are the keys that unlock the doors of success and service to others in whatever we do. Thus, we, the staff, present THE 1967 ARCHIVE as SPIRIT—THE KEY TO VICTORY.

SPIRIT is an action word

Spirit is an action word; and the action at Governor Mifflin is everywhere—from the motion of students through the corridors to the rhythm of dancing feet on the stage.

Mifflin's spirit is shown by the good sportsmanship of its teams, and the actions of the students and faculty in their classrooms, achievements, and community services. Each administrator, faculty member, senior, underclassman, club, and team adds its own spirited action as the key that unlocks the door to victory.

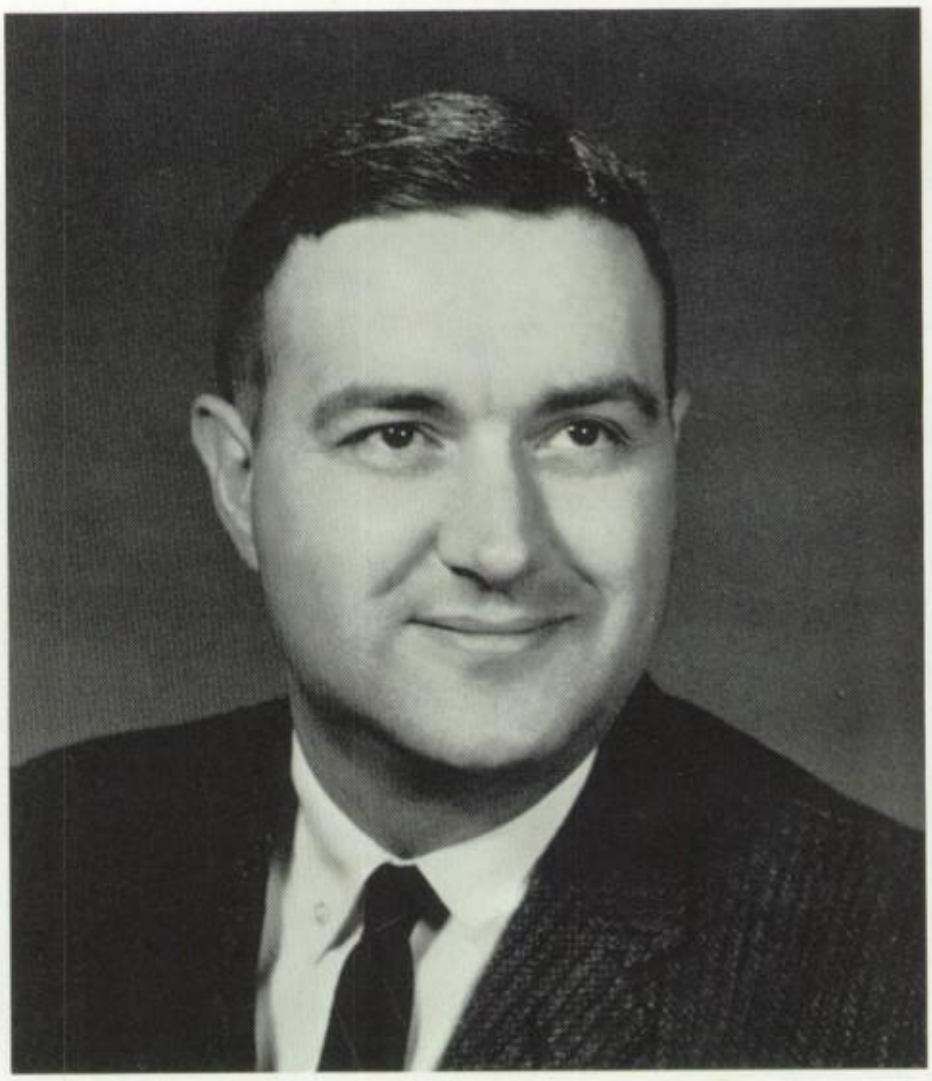
Able leaders leave GM for new positions



This year Governor Mifflin loses two capable and efficient leaders who have accepted new positions. Mr. Keith Lebo served as Junior High School Guidance Counselor and more recently as Curriculum Coordinator for the entire system. He has now accepted the position of Supervisor of the Berks-Schuylkill Regional Film Library. Mr. Lebo has been at Mifflin since September 1957. He had received his A.B. from Lebanon Valley College and his M.Ed. from Penn State University. Presently, he is working on a doctorate at Lehigh University.

Mr. Russell Ruble is the other leader who has left this year. He has contributed greatly to our Vocational agriculture program during his twelve years with us. As a teacher of vocational agriculture and its related subjects and as staff leader of the vocational department for grades seven through twelve, Mr. Ruble initiated the program and helped plan the present facilities. He earned both a B.S. and an M.S. degree from Penn State University. Known throughout the state for his leadership in his field, he is now Supervisor of Agriculture for Berks and Lebanon Counties. The ARCHIVE staff wishes both Mr. Lebo and Mr. Ruble the best in their new positions.

In Loving Memory of

ESTELLA ROBERTA PENNEPACKER

December 23, 1910 — September 20, 1966

"Her example, her spirit, the good that she has done will live on in our lives and in the lives of the students she has taught."

—H. L. Hendricks

Superintendent of Schools

Estella R. Pennepacker was an honor graduate of Shillington High School and Albright College. She served as secretary, vice president, and president of the Berks County Language Teachers Association. She was also secretary of the Albright Alumni Association and a member of Delta Kappa Gamma, national honor society for educators.

In addition to these scholastic pursuits, Miss Pennepacker served her community as a member of the Woman's Club of Shillington for more than 20 years and as a Sunday School teacher at St. Luke's Evangelical Church for 35 years. She was devoted to her family and very much interested in the education of her niece and nephews.

Within the school system, where she taught languages and English for many years, she was secretary of the Shillington Teachers Association, a staff leader of the language department, an active member of the Governor Mifflin Teachers Association, having served on its executive committee, the constitution committee, and chairman of the sunshine committee. She was the author of several articles published in German language magazines and served on four evaluation teams for the Middle Atlantic States Association of Secondary Schools. Well-known for her teaching talents, Miss Pennepacker was first vice president of the Pennsylvania State Association of Classical Teachers and a life member of the National Education Association.

H. L. HENDRICKS

Superintendent of Schools

There is a special spirit prevailing in the Governor Mifflin School System. It is reflected in the pride and positive attitude of the students. One can sense it in the classroom and see it demonstrated on the athletic field, whether it be the performance of the team or the band. Talk with parents, teachers, or spectators—it is always there. Walk through the corridors or classrooms of any building, Brecknock, Cumru, Farview, Gouglersville, Mohnton, Shillington, Yocum, Junior High School, or Senior High School; this special climate prevails everywhere.

What is this spirit, and how did it develop? There is no pat answer to this question, but perhaps it can be found, in part, in the meaning of the adopted seal of the school which is as follows:

GOLD—stands for honor, loyalty, truth and honesty.

MAROON—represents bravery and courage.

CHEVRON—signifies the highest regard for excellence and outstanding accomplishment in any field of endeavor.

STAR—symbolizes spiritual guidance from The Almighty, which is essential for self-realization and a life of service.

CHAIN LINKS—represent each of the original four school districts and indicate strength and unity through cooperation.

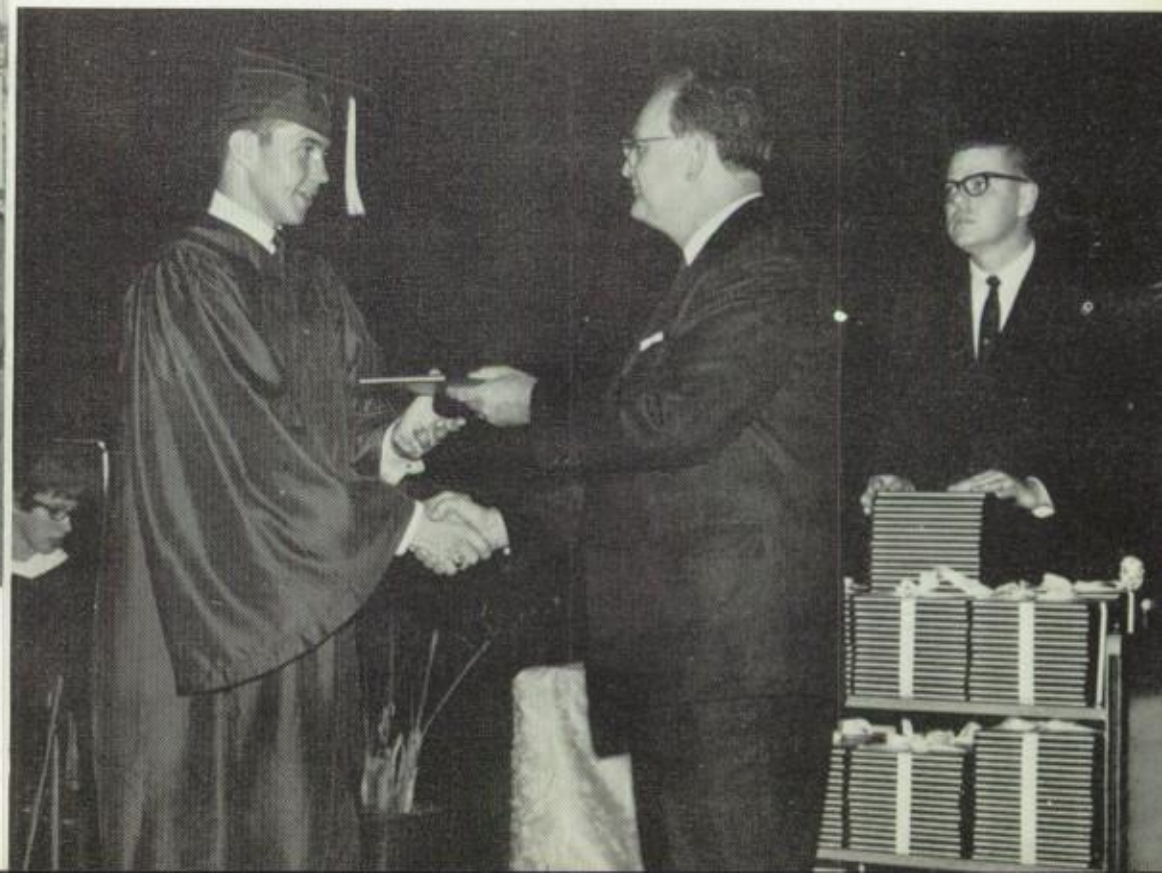
NIL DESPERANDUM—"We are to despair of nothing." This is the quality of a positive, "forward looking" attitude so needed to deal with life's complex problems successfully.

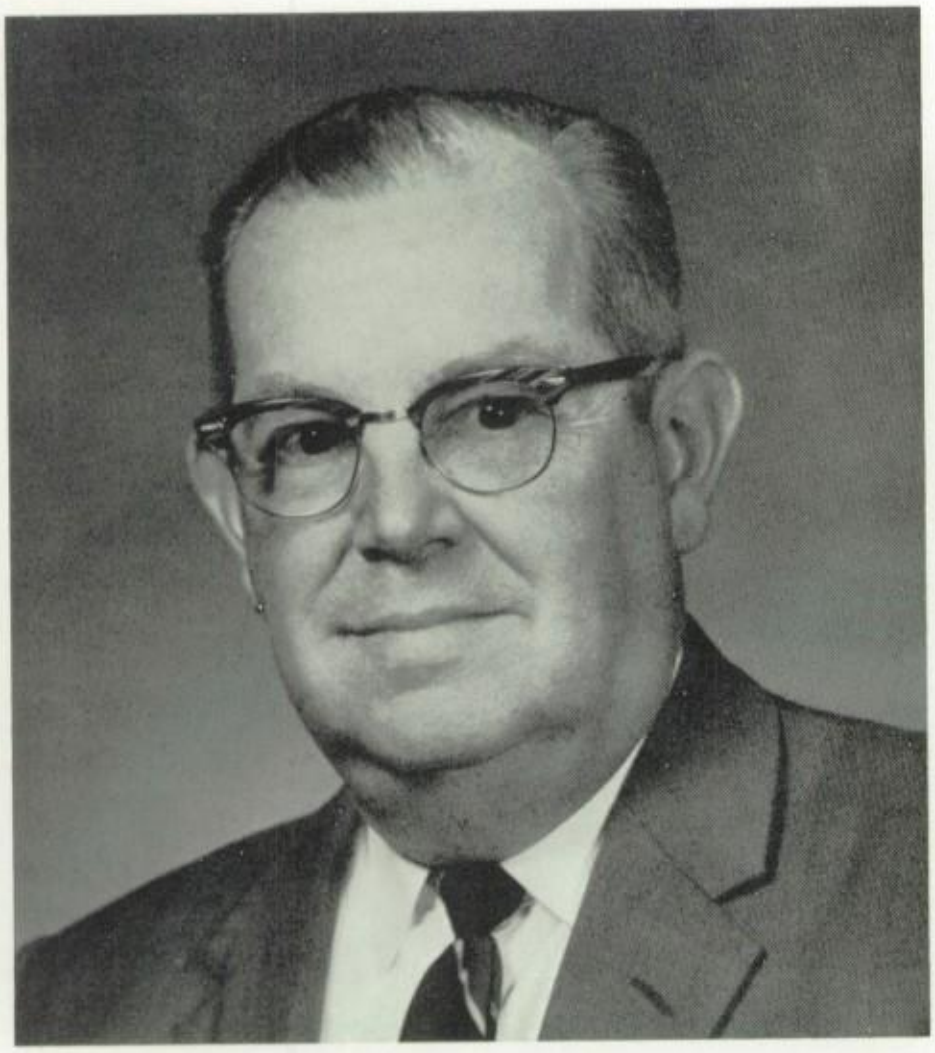
Dedication to these high principles, as symbolized by the Governor Mifflin Spirit, is certain to produce desirable results, both in school and in life.

Superintendent lead our school well

Mr. Hendricks chats with the speaker at the All Sports Banquet, E.E. (Rip) Miller, assistant Athletic Director at the U.S. Naval Academy.

The superintendent hands the first 1967 diploma to Dan Kelley, president of the class.





LUTHER A. WEIK

Administrative Assistant

Over the period of years, Governor Mifflin students have enjoyed many victories and championships in the fields of academic achievement, music, art, athletics, and overcoming personal obstacles. Your parents, friends, members of the school board, the administrative staff, and teachers have aided you in achieving your immediate goals and pointing you to future goals after graduation. You were provided with the finest physical facilities to help develop yourself to the fullest. These are a few of the tangibles. But what about the intangibles —school spirit, for example? I am sure that at Mifflin we have a dynamic spirit that cannot be fully defined, but is a very important factor in our success. School spirit is defined as enthusiasm and loyalty, but the Mifflin spirit goes even beyond this definition. You have witnessed what may happen when spirits are low, so always try to keep your spirit up, and remember, "Spirit is the Key to Success."

Administrative Personnel and Principals

KEITH H. LEBO

Curriculum Coordinator

During the time Mr. Lebo was here at Governor Mifflin, he was responsible for the overall curriculum development. This large job included coordinating the courses offered to Mifflin students, screening new materials and textbooks, sending new materials to teachers, supervising the team teaching program, supervising summer school, and in-service workshops for the faculty. However, Mr. Lebo still found time for sports, reading, and gardening. He also enjoyed the excitement of discovering new instructional materials and ways to use them. Mr. Lebo said that he admires a student who is sincere, honest, positive, optimistic, and vibrant with life. In his own words, "Life is too short and too full of treasures for one to be pessimistic." We wish him much success in his new position with the county schools administration.

WILLIAM T. SHANNON

Senior High School Principal

The Governor Mifflin Class of 1967 exemplifies the true meaning of the words, "spirit" and "victory." Without question, this class has led Governor Mifflin to many successes in scholarship, athletics, dramatics, and music, as well as many other activities that give outward meaning to the total school program.

More important, however, were the inward individual successes that each member of the class in one way or another experienced. Spirit is defined as a state of mind—an enthusiasm—a loyalty. Another word for victory is success. Each member of the class grew in spirit, in mind, and in attitude to the degree that each experienced an inward self success that will guide him in his adult life. The victory of knowing self is a must if personal success is to be found.

The spirit and success of the Class of 1967 is a symbol which other students in years to come should strive to obtain.

direct us with true professional spirit

BARRY R. NELSON

Assistant High School Principal

The yearbook of the Class of 1967 bears as its motto, "Spirit, the key to Victory." One need look no further than the Class of 1967 to see this theme perfectly exemplified. Its many fine achievements and accomplishments speak well for its members.

The whole tone of this year was set off well with the band's victory at Northampton and the football team's thrilling victory over Wilson. The spirit and drive that encompassed the entire school in conjunction with these events had much to do with the eventual victories.

The Class of 1967 went on to lead the senior high school to several other championships and creditable performances in all areas, curricular and extracurricular.

This fine group of young people is to be congratulated and wished the best that the future has to offer. Their spirit will long be felt at Mifflin, and it will surely provide the key to victory for them in the difficult years to come.

STUDENT COUNCIL—Shown in the high school conference room are the students comprising the Student Council. One representative is elected from each homeroom, and competition is keen, as evidenced by the spirited nomination speeches and skits performed by the candidates preceding election. Student Council meets weekly to discuss matters dealing with student activities and relationships between the student body and the administration and faculty. These students play a vital role in the life of the school, and through the various council committees have charge of most all student affairs. FIRST ROW: N. Schlouch, L. Huckleberry, C. White, M. Machemer, J. Benscoter, C. Pincavage, J. Horst, A. Leffler, A. Ross, D. Maier, C. Maier, K. Stanislawczyk. SECOND ROW: T. Bixler, G. Frymoyer, J. Mosser, R. Vance, E. Dietrich, G. Gary Kennedy and Lynda Foreman demonstrate their dramatic talents in this scene from the Junior Class Play, YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU, in which they played leading roles.

Skits bring out best in new inductees

Membership is based on the number of points earned by the candidates for roles played in class plays, the Spring Swing, or one-act presentations. By accumulating the required number of points for participation or assisting in a production, the student is accepted into this honorary group. This dramatic scene shows Donald Fatzinger, Shirley Couden, Stephen Redpath, and Dotty Knarr in the senior class play, THE CLASS MENAGERIE.

MELTHALIAN—Those members who were inducted into society membership last year arranged the assembly program and planned the skits, which were featured in the program. Re-enacting a skit are the boys in the first row, and the other members seem to be enjoying their hi-jinks. FIRST ROW: D. Kochard, D. Carl, E. Denny, S. Breininger. SECOND ROW: M. Lykens, S. Couden, K. Mohn, D. Knarr, B. Morrison. THIRD ROW: J. Warren, W. Wasser, D. Fatzinger, S. Cairns, Mrs. Winifred Oberreit, adviser.

AMULET—Forty-four students were inducted into membership in Amulet, Governor Mifflin's chapter of the National Senior Honor Society this spring. This highly coveted honor is earned by the top members of the junior and senior classes for their demonstration of superior scholarship, leadership, character, and service to the school. FIRST ROW: P. Zerbe, L. Miller, L. Schmehl, S. Schaeffer, P. Stoner, L. Sadlowski, D. Kranis, C. Keene, S. Fisher, S. Henke. SECOND ROW: S. Hessler, S. Eby, C. Sweet, D. Hardy, S. Steinmetz, D. Wagonblast, D. After the induction ceremony in the auditorium, the new members are feted at a reception and tea in the cafeteria. Corsages, membership pins, and certificates are presented to the members by the Senior High School Parent Teacher Association.

The symbol of the honor society provides an interesting setting for the principals in the induction service.

MELTHALIAN—Students who were elected in their junior year edit the student handbook and plan the always impressive induction ceremony. They appear in black robes in the pictures. FIRST ROW: K. Levan, H. Salls, D. Glenn, N. Werner, K. Stanislawczyk, M. Swartz, R. Althouse, M. Penberth, J. Celia, S. Cuyler. SECOND ROW: D. Kochard, B. Wayne, J. Moyer, D. Roper, J. Brown, M. Zerbe, S. character honored at Amulet induction

Looking at the symbol are Philip Wenrich, Amulet president; the Reverend Robert I. Rhoads, speaker; Mr. Donald Burger, adviser; Mr. William T. Shannon, principal; and Mr. H. L. Hendricks, superintendent.

The new members are being congratulated as they greet the senior members, the faculty, and parents in the receiving line at the reception. Mothers of the senior members were responsible for the lovely tea presented at the occasion. Mrs. Mark S. Reed headed the committee arranging the reception and tea.

UNDERCLASSMEN STAFF—"Now, let's see, who knows this sophomore?" What a task to identify all the underclassmen and get their names spelled correctly. ARCHIVE TYPISTS—The girls who type the copy for the yearbook don't appear too dismayed at the gigantic task before them as they receive instructions from Cynthia Adams, head typist. They are S. Buckwalter, M. Gehman, E. Keiser, B. Derr, D. Wertz, N. Hauptmann, J. Herr, C. Adams, head typist.

RIGHT—ARCHIVE PHOTOGRAPHERS—Turn about is fair play, and this time the picture taking men have to face the camera themselves. Mr. Andrew Purdon and Mr. Robert Rasbridge of Purdon Studios are the official photographers for the yearbook and other school publications. We see them at all the dances, banquets, games, and other school affairs, busily snapping pictures for use in THE ARCHIVE. Assisting them is Phyllis Shull, our student photographer.

ARCHIVE COLLECTORS—Under the direction of Margaret Lykens and Joanne Celia, the business managers, these students record the subscriptions and make the collections in each homeroom every month. FIRST ROW: M. SENIOR STAFF—The more seniors in the class, the more work involved for these people who write the personality sketches about their classmates. But it is fun writing all the things they will remember about each other in the years to come, and Colleen Ciemiewicz had a good group to assist her with the work. Staff members include A. Witmer, T. The co-chairladies of the Christmas Dance, Carole Pincavage and Jeanne Renee Strause, together with their escorts, Keith Craley and Dan Kelley, admire the Christmas Tree.

This happy group sits out a dance at the festive holiday affair, sponsored by the Student Council. One of the highlights of the year's social events, it is always an affair to be anticipated. Under the direction of Miss Anna C. Taylor, council adviser, the council members used a toyland theme for decorations this year.

"Twilight in Toyland" is success

Miniature Santas centered each table and provided color as well as presiding over the bags of goodies, which were the dance favors.

Blending into the decor at Santa's hearth is this couple, apparently sharing everyone's joy in attending this annual event.

LEFT—A large group of dancers whirls around the Christmas Tree and enjoys an entertaining evening.

Class of '67 presents The Miracle Worker

Scott Cairns as Mr. Keller seems to be in a pensive mood as he contemplates the "miracle."

Shirley Couden, in the role of Anne Sullivan, says a last goodbye to her friends at school.

BELOW—Mrs. Keller throws a worried glance at Miss Annie as she inspects the cottage.

Jim, the gentleman caller, played by Donald Fatzinger, greets a shy Laura Wingfield, Dotty Knarr, as the brother, Steve Redpath, looks on.

ABOVE RIGHT—Tension mounts in this scene with Shirley Couden as the mother joining her son and daughter.

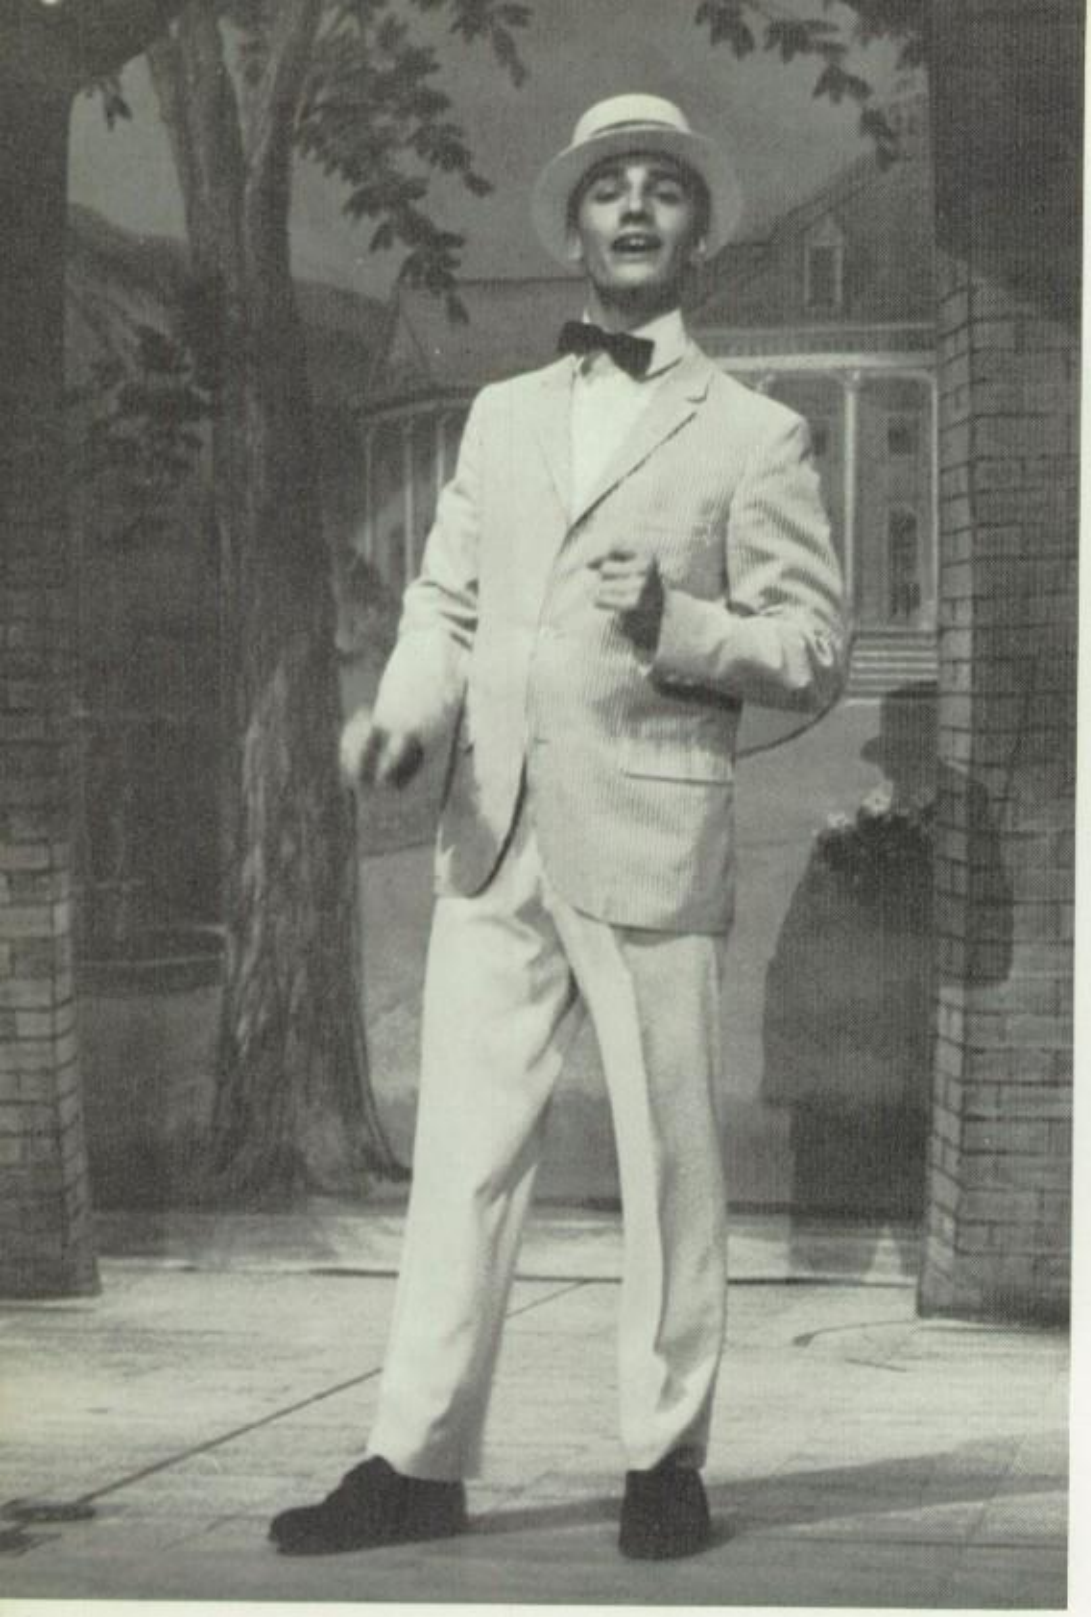
Seniors produce The Glass Menagerie

Mrs. Winifred Oberreit directed both the junior and senior class plays for the Class of 1967.



Where's Charley?

ABOVE—The imperturbable butler, played by Scott Cairns, remains calm through all the hilarious situations in the show.

Charley's aunt seems to have the situation under control, although Donald Carl and Kathleen Mohn look dubious about the whole thing.

The cast and chorus conclude this year's Spring Swing with a colorful curtain call and receive a standing ovation from the appreciative audiences for their efforts. The show, directed by Mr. Robert J. Cooper and Mr. Nicholas G. Geracimos, played to three capacity houses and was the ninth such production at Governor Mifflin.

scores big hit

RIGHT—Kathleen Mohn and Susan Fitterling, the two leading ladies, watch Gary Kennedy as Mr. Spettigue, making up his mind.

BELOW—Charley's Aunt entertains Shirley Couden and Dan Kelley at tea, as Donald Carl looks on apprehensively.

Miss Mifflin appears to enjoy the attention she is receiving from the escorts.

Joanne Benscoter reigns as Miss Mifflin of 1967

Miss Anna C. Taylor, Student Council Adviser, receives a lovely surprise at the dance—a beautiful bouquet of yellow roses, presented by Student Council President, Dan Kelley, in appreciation for her work with the council and efforts to make this Spring Dance a success.

Joanne receives her crown from Carole Pincavage, as her escort smiles his approval.

MISS MIFFLIN COURT—Miss Mifflin of 1967, Joanne Benscoter, is surrounded by her court and escorts. The girls are elected by the students to preside over the Spring Dance, sponsored annually as a highlight of the spring social activities by the Student Council. SEATED: Joanne Benscoter, Miss Mifflin 1967. FIRST ROW: Scott Weidner, Judy Benscoter, Ellen Reed, Jeanne Renee Strause, Carole Pincavage, crown bearer; Alison Ross, Kay Wilkinson, Donna Wenrich, Gerald Jefferis. SECOND ROW: Michael Richards, Dan Kelley, Larry Blankhorn, Randall Zook, William Vance.

Seniors and take magic ride east of

RIGHT—These couples are shown arriving at the festive event, eagerly anticipated each year by both the honored guests, the Seniors, and the Juniors, who work many hours planning and preparing the elaborate transformation of the gym, library, and corridors into beautiful settings for the dance.

The centerpiece in the gym was a huge genie rising from a beautiful urn. This group paused to enjoy the handsome effect under the billowing sky provided by the giant parachute.

juniors carpet Suez

The senior and junior class presidents, Dan Kelley and Keith Craley, and their lovely ladies, together with Principal and Mrs. William T. Shannon, greet the guests as they enter the gym.

RIGHT—The dogwood trees provided a colorful promenade for the guests as they arrived and also in the courtyard.

It looks as if this group of dancers has worked up an appetite from dancing and is ready to be served tasty refreshments from a beautifully decorated buffet table in the library. Mothers and fathers of junior class members assisted in providing the goodies enjoyed by the students and faculty at the Prom. Mr. Benjamin Overley was the faculty sponsor for the affair.

Sober-faced seniors enter the auditorium for the Baccalaureate Service, sponsored by the Governor Mifflin Ministerial Association. A capacity audience of parents and friends witnessed the impressive ceremony. The Mixed Chorus sang the anthems for the service.

Baccalaureate and Commencement

The Reverend W. Ronald Yocom officiated at the Baccalaureate, and the Reverend David J. Sweet, father of Cynthia, a class member, delivered the address and also participated in the Commencement Program. Dan Kelley, president of the Class of 1967, presented the class gift, money for the expenses of sponsoring a foreign exchange student, to the president of the School Board, Mrs. W. Richard Eshelman, mother of David, an honor student speaker.

The 280-member class takes its place in the Albright College Field House for the Commencement Program, May 29. More than 3,000 parents and friends attended and congratulated these graduates upon reaching a successful conclusion to their public school education.
Sixty-two per cent will continue their formal education.

LOWER CENTER—A sentimental moment arrived as Mr. Hendricks declared the seniors graduated, and each one turned his tassel in traditional fashion.

RIGHT—Francine Saylor and David Eshelman were elected by the top 15% of the class to be the class speakers at Commencement. Special musical selections were presented by Shirley Couden, soprano, and David Hanley, clarinetist.

LOWER RIGHT—The highest Award, The Award Elite, was presented by Mr. William T. Shannon, high school principal, to D. Werner, D. Wenrich, J. R. Strause, F. Saylor, M. Lykens, D. Kelley, G. Dougherty, C. Ciemiewicz, S. Cairns, L. Breedy, G. Berger, Judith and Joanne Benscoter.

ALMA MATER

Alma Mater, Hail to thee,
Symbol of Democracy,
Strong and mighty you will stand
As God protects you with His hand.

Mifflin High, to thee we sing,
As in thy halls our echoes rng.
Thy colors of maroon and gold
Ever in our hearts we'll hold!

SPIRIT—THE KEY TO VICTORY

The years spent at Governor Mifflin have endowed each of us with a strong and abiding SPIRIT, which will, in truth, be the key that opens many doors of opportunity to us. With this spirit we have the KEY TO VICTORY!
